

Biography of Assistant professor Milan Kostić, PhD

Milan Kostić was born in Jagodina in 1978. He graduated, received his Master's Degree, and PhD from the Faculty of Economics, University of Kragujevac. Since 2003 he has worked at the Faculty of Economics at the University of Kragujevac as a Junior Teaching Assistant, then Assistant, and now as an Assistant Professor, teaching Theory and Policy of Prices (microeconomic topics) at undergraduate studies, narrow scientific field General Economics and Economic Development. He also lectures in Globalization and Transition at master academic studies and Analysis of Competitiveness at doctoral academic studies. The main focus of Milan Kostić's scientific and research interests is related to the field of protection of competition and the application of economic analysis in this sphere. He has published over 20 scientific papers in national and international journals, monographs, and proceedings. During his scientific and professional work at the Faculty of Economics, he participated in the preparation of two studies intended for the needs of the Commission for Protection of Competition of the Republic of Serbia. He was also engaged as an economic expert on the project "Strengthening the Institutional Capacity of the Commission for Protection of Competition (CPC) in the Republic of Serbia" funded by the European Union, and implemented by a consortium led by Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH. During 2010 he attended the course "Key Issues on the International Economic Agenda" organized by UNCTAD Virtual University and the Azerbaijan Diplomatic Academy, which took place in Baku, the Republic of Azerbaijan. He lives and works in Kragujevac.